Notes and instructions for the handling of this wine and beverage list

Wherever possible, producers and manufacturers are not named so as not to disadvantage individual producers.

Wine

The aim is for learners to gain knowledge of the classification of the areas/sub-areas of the specified cantons, wine-growing districts, wines, categories (AOP, etc.), types of wine, types of production, protected designations and grape varieties, as well as characteristics and attributes.

Other beverages

The aim is for learners to gain knowledge of quality differences, legal requirements, production, varieties, serving options and preparation, as well as characteristics and attributes.

The vol. % data for spirits and beers is not required by law but has been included in this list as an aid to learners.

The idea is not to memorise all the products on the list. It is intended to represent a teaching aid and guide. The knowledge to be acquired from the list serves as a basis for the qualification procedure in the professional knowledge qualification area.
